HOUSTON (June 5, 2024) – The Houston SPCA and Harris County Constable Precinct 1 rescued 17 dogs since May 22 with the final seven dogs rescued late yesterday afternoon after they were all living in deplorable conditions inside a filthy trailer near the 200 block of Dell Dale in Channelview.

Officials said the animals were living in a trailer full of feces, dirt and trash. They were rescued due to a lack of proper veterinary care and poor living conditions. The skeletal remains of two dogs were also discovered on the property including one still attached to a chain that appeared to be used as a restraint. The dogs are now in the care of the Houston SPCA where they will receive individualized care including treatment for flea infestations, dental disease and severe matting.

Five of the seven dogs rescued from the property late yesterday was with a civil seizure warrant served by Harris County Constable Precinct 1. A court hearing has been scheduled for next week.
